SENATOR MURPHY SAYS THE TICKET VILL WIN FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

s Looked Over the Whole Ground and Heard All the Reports-Burleigh Forgot Part of That Betting Anecdote, Chairman Edward Murphy, Jr., of the Demoeratic State Committee, read in THE SUN Yesterday morning ex-Congressman Henry G. Burleigh's version of his visit to the Hoffman House on Wednesday evening. Mr. Murphy's version indicates that Mr. Burleigh did nottell all the story, and, in fact, forgot the most important part of it.

"Mr. Burleigh," said Mr. Muaphy, "called on me, as he usually does when I am in the city. Although on different sides of the politieal fence we are personal friends. When he called Wednesday evening he said: 'Mr. Murphy, what size hat do you wear?' and I told him 75. Then he wanted to bet an $8 slik hat that Judge Maynard would be defeated, and I took the bet, as THE SUN said, in a wink, Then Isaid to Mr. Burleigh: 'Now I've taken your bet and of course you will take my bet.' He said. 'What is it?' and I replied: 'I will bet you $1,000, Mr. Burieigh, that Judge Maynard and the whole Democratic ticket win.' Brother Burleigh would not take the bet. The next time he tells THE SUN a story ask him to give you the last chapter."

Most of the Democratic leaders from the sountry districts who came to New York to consult with Chairman Murphy returned home yesterday. All day Wednesday and until early yesterday morning Mr. Murphy and Lieut .-Gov. Sheehan were in consultation with the Democratic lieutenants. But by yesterday afternoon there was a great thinning out of the visitors, and Mr. Murphy had time to say a last word to Mr. Sheshan before the Lieuten ant-Governor left for Buffalo at 4:30. Mr. will await Senator Hill's arrival from Washington, which will be either Murphy will await Senator Hill's arrival from Washington, which will be either to-day or to-morrow. The senior Senator, with Congressman John R. Fellows, is booked to speak in Buffalo to-morrow night. Senator Hill will then return to Albany, senator Murphy will be in Troy all day election day, and Lieut. Gov.-sheehan will remain in Buffalo. It is doubtful whether Secretary Charles R. De Freest will return from Troy in time on election day to have the returns read at the headquarters in West Twenty-fourth street. Arrangements have already been made to receive the returns from the State in Cov. Flower's office at Albany.

Senator Murphy was never more confident of victory than he was yesterday. He has looked over the whole ground and believes there is not the slightest doubt of the election of the entire Democratic ticket on election day. He has made all allowances foroff-year apathy, and has allowed the Republicans and their allies more than a generous vote, and yet, with all the figures before him, he is positive that the ticket will have anywhere from 20,000 to 40,000 majority. He believes firmly that the attacks, on Judge Maynard have stimulated an interest in the ticket which will be demonstrated on election night. Other important Democrate said that the opposition to the ticket this year came from the same people who had been in opposition since 1885. They do not believe that this opposition has grown any stronger this year, as there was nothing to base if on. In other words, in the opinion of these Democrats, it is the same old fight of the minority trying to rule the majority—and failing.

EVERY TAMMANY LEADER EXPECTS A VICTORY. EVERY TAMMANY LEADER EXPECTS A VICTORY.

The thirty district leaders of Tammany Hall unite in saying that the political situation in New York city is more favorable than it was last year or two years ago. In not a single district in the city do they admit that the Republicans have a gheet of a show. The leaders met yesterday with Mr. Croker in Tammany Hall for the last time but one before the election. Police Commissioner Martin presided. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange the final details of the campaign. That included the finding out of weak shots, if there were any. A report was made by every district leader. Each said that the election of his Assemblyman was as good as assured, and that the State ticket from top to bottom would probably poll a bigger vote than was polled two years ago for Gov. Flower.

Mr. Oroker made a short speech. He asked each leader to devotespecial effort to the State ticket, and especially to the aid of Judge Maynard, who, he said, was being unjustly assailed. At the close of the meeting copies of the registry lists were given out. They were made up and printed yesterday by the Only Record. They will be of use in keeping tab on voters on election day, and will enable district captains to get out the people who might negiect the opportunity to vote.

The last meeting of the leaders before the election will be held on Sunday evening, when every leader will be expected to make a pretty close estimate of the vote on election day.

r leader will be expected to make a pretty estimate of the vote on election day. TAMMANY'S MEETING TO-NIGHT.

TAMMANI'S MEETING TO-NIGHT.

To-night will be one of the liveliest of the whole campaign so far as Tammany Hall is concerned. Police Commissioner Martin, the leader of the Eighth, has planned a parade for the east side, and he says that there will be not less than 5.000 men in line. The marchers will be led by the Thirteenth Regiment band and 150 men on horseback. After the parade there will be a big mass meeting at Hamersley square, which is at the junction of flouston. Bedford and Hancock streets.

There will be a nother parade in the Sixteenth district. Bayne's Sixty-ninth Regiment band has been engaged. Afterward there will be a big mass meeting at Terrace Carden, Fifty-eighth street, between Third and Lexington avenues.

Injudicious friends of ex-Senator Charles P. McClelland of Westchester have been saying things of late. The ex-Senator last night took occasion to correct certain impressions. At a Democratic ratification meeting held in Tarrytown he took the stump and pledged his aupport to the whole ticket and asked his friends to do the same.

In a good, strong address he said that no man was a friend of his who did not vote on election day the whole straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom. This makes the Domocracy of Westchester a unit, and insures the success of the entire ticket in the county. The close relation of ex-Senator McClelland to President Cleveland is another significant feature.

Breision in Favor of the Platt Faction in Seneca County. CORNING, Nov. 2-Supreme Court Justice Adams of Canandaigua has confirmed the decision of County Clerk McGhan of Seneca county in the matter of placing the ticket nominated by the Mongin faction of Republicans as the regular Republican ticket. The Mongin faction have the endorsement of the Biate Committee and of Mr. Platt. The courts for the last two years have decided in favor of the Patterson or anti-Platt faction. It is believed that the last decision of the Court will end the work of the Patterson faction.

The People's party of the Twenty-sixth district has nominated Dr. Omer E. Newman of Potter for Senator, and Omer Smith of Starkey for District Delegate to the Constitutional Convention. Convention.

Woman's Right to Vote.

Justice Bartlett in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, recently decided that the women of Suffolk county have no right to vote, either for Mrs. Raynor, their candidate for School Commissioner, or any other person. County Clerk Orange T. Fanning, however, had some doubt as to whether he should send out the ballots as to whether he should send out the ballots which the women had applied for, and yesterday his lawyer attended in the Supreme Court in Brooklya and asked Justice Cullen for an interpretation of the law on the subject. Justice I ullen said that it was the duty of the County Clerk to send out the ballots. He had nothing to do as to who presented them to one. That was for the inspectors of election to decide. It was their duty to decide who had no right to vote. The County Clerk will, therefore, send out the ballots with Mrs. Baywaor's name, but the inspectors will not receive the vote of any of her women supporters. the votes of any of her women supporters

MURRER WANTS OFFICIAL BALLOTS,

Justice Lippincott, in the Supreme Court, Jersey City, heard argument yesterday afternoon on the application of James Murrer for an order to compel County Clerk McLaughlin to print official ballots for him. Murrer is an independent candidate for Sheriff, trying to run in the interest of the Republican candidate, Col. John J. Toffey. He is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Republican managers, when they persuaded bim to go into the race, confidently expected bim to go into the race, confidently expected that every vote given to Murrer would be one taken awar from Stanton, the Democratic candidate. The scheme got a black eye when the County Clerk, by advice of counsel, refused to provide Murrer with official ballots, for the reason that he had not filed his acceptance of the nomination within ten days before election, as prescribed by the election law. The law requires the acceptance to be filed with the candidate's petition for nomination. Law-yer Harry Wills argued that the acceptance could be filed any time before election.

"Suppose," he said, "a man was nominated by petition and was in Europe at the time, so that he could not get back within the ten-day limit, ought that to prevent him from running for the office?"

"Suppose," answered Justice Lippincott dry-"

for the office?"

"Suppose." answered Justice Lippincott dryly, "he did not return until after election, do you think he could run when the law positively requires the filing of an acceptance?"

Mr. Wills surrendered that conundrum, and proceeded to argue that it was not necessary to file the petition and acceptance at the same time. Justice Lippincott will give his decision to-day.

DUFFY'S CART SUPPRESSED.

It Will Disturb No More Tammany Meet-

The Tammany men in the Twenty-fifth Assembly district held an open air meeting in 102d street, between First and Second avenues, on Wednesday night. That is the district where the Michael Duffy Association put Herman Klinker in the field as an independent candidate for Assembly. On the night of the open air meeting a wagon covered with Klinker transparencies and containing a big bell started through the district with three men aboard to ring up votes for Klinker. The Tammany meeting was in full blast when the wagon came along.

Back and fourth through the crowd the horse threaded his way, while the men in the wagon clanged the bell and shouted for Klinker. The clarging of the bell amused two men in a neighboring tenement so much that they, too, got a bell and rang it uproaricusly from the vantage ground of their room. The Tammany speakers could not be heard owing to the discordant clanger, and the crowd was kept busy straining their cars and dodging the Duffyites' wagon.

The driver was warned several times, and finally the occupants of the wagon were arrested. Many Tammany men, and all the Duffyites were in the Harlem Police Court yesterday to hear the outcome of the arrests. Each side had a lawyer. The prisoners argued that they had to mass through the crowd to reach their stable. The Tammany men said the Duffyites drove through the crowd to reach their stable. ### THAT GRAVESEND REGISTRATION.

Mr. Gaynor Has the Twelve Election Inspectors Before Justice Cullen in Brooklyn. John Y. McKane, the Gravesend chieftain, and the twelve election inspectors in the six districts in the town were in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday morning as defendants in the proceedings instituted by William J. Gaynor and the Republican managers to compel thom to furnish a copy of the 6,000 or more names on the registry list. On the previous day Justice Cullen had issued an order directing the officials named to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be granted, the writ of mandamus should not be granted, the contention being that obstacles had been placed in the way of the men sent down to Gravesend by Mr. Gaynor to get the names.

Owing to a failure to serve the papers in the case in the regular manner, the argument was postponed until the afternoon. Lawyer George W. Roderick for the respondents presented affidavits showing that John Y. Mc. Kane was not an election officer, and had nothing whatever to do with the making up or counting of the poll list. He said that the ten men whom Mr. Gaynor sent to the island insisted on having special privileges shown them in copying the names. When these ten men got there other men, in behalf of candidates and the Democratio General Committee, were already engaged in copying the list.

United States District-Attorner Johnson presented affidavits to the effect that a gigantic conspiracy against the purity of the ballot hox had been hatched at Gravesend, and that thousands of fraudulent names had been put on the registry books. As Mr. Gaynor was a candidate for a high judicial office, it was his legal right to have access to these books, so that the intended fraud might be exposed and thwarted. Justice Cullen reserved his decision in the case until this morning. contention being that obstacles had been

There will be meetings held every night up to elecwill be meetings held every night up to election day. On Sunday night a meeting will be held in Educational Hall under the auspices of the thirteen churches of the town. The leading speaker will be ex-State Senator William H. Corbin of Jersey City. Great pressure was brought to bear on the flev. Dr. E. H. Stokes, the President of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association, to secure his permission for the holding of a fusion meeting within the sacred precints of the grove. Dr. Stokes positively refused to allow the meeting to be held. to be held.

Founder Bradley's latest electioneering scheme will be sprung on the county to-morrow, when he will commence the distribution of handsome hand brushes.

Dr. Deprey and Sam Thomas Forgive Him. The Republicans of the Twenty-first Assembly district are making desperate efforts to offset the effect of Otto Irving Wise's turning down of Gen. Samuel Thomas and his attempt to defeat Dr. Depew for delegate to the Syracuse Convention. They have worked hard and assiduously, and have at last secured the signatures of Gen. Thomas and Dr. cured the signatures of Gen. Thomas and Dr. Depew to a certificate of character for Wiso, which James A. Blanchard is circulating broadcast among the diamond backs with the hope of electing the fresh young convert to Republicanism to the Assembly.

Railroad men and fron workers, boatmen. and workers along the wharves on the west side ratified the Tammany ticket in characteristic style last night at a big mass meeting at Tenth avenue and Twenty-eighth street. These were the men who helped to roll up a majority of 1.500 last year for Cleveland in Leader John C. Sheehan's old Thirteenth dis-trict. They have promised to make it 2,000 for the State tesket this year. Among the speakers were Commissioner Sheehan, John J. Delaney, Civil Justice-to-be Joseph H. Stincy, Benjamin Patterson. Matthew P. Ryan, As-semilyman Southworth, and ex-Assemblyman John B. McGoldrick.

Importance of the Iowa Election.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Representative D. B. Henderson of lowa expresses surprise that so little public interest East appears to attach to the lowa election. He says: "The newspapers are full of accounts of the importance of the elections in Massachusetts, New York, and Ohio, but they pay very little attention to the Ohio, but they pay very little attention to the lowa election, which is the most important of this year. If the kepublicans of lowa should fail to do their duty a Legislature would be elected which would return a lennacrate succeed Mr. Milson in the United States Senate, and State Senators might be elected who would vote for a Democratic successor to Fenator Allison. Therefore the election in lowa is of more consequence in a national sense than the elections in the other States.

Col. Henderson naturally sees roseate prospects for kepublican auccess "if we can only set out our full veting strength."

REPUBLICAN THIRTEEN.

But He Hasn't Compiled with the Electic LAST MEETING OF THE EXECUTION-ERS OF THE SYRACUSE TICKET.

Every Man Held on to His Voenl Hat-No Money to Do Anything With, and Nothing to Do Since "Dodson & Fong Took the Case on Spre"-Funeral Arrangements. After all the entreaties, and after all the letter writing and telegrams, the Republican campaigners at Coroner Hackett's bureau at the Fifth Avenue Hotel could get only thirteen of the Executive Committee to attend the final meeting of the campaign in the hotel vesterday morning. Those present besides Mr. Hackett, Mr. Brookfield, Mr. Kenyon, and Thomas C. Platt, who are always on the ground, were William H. Robertson of Westchester, John A. Quackenbush of Stillwater, B. B. G'Dell, Jr., of Newburgh, Barnet H. Davis of Palmyra, John N. Scatcherd of Buffalo, Charles M. Newins of Brocklyn, William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, Isaac L. Hunt, Jr., of Adams, and Isaac V. Baker, Jr., of Comstocks. At none of the previous meetings were over four out-of-towners present. Yesterday the number was increased to seven. All told, there are twenty-two members of the committee, and the attendance at these conclaves, which are supposed to direct the destinies of the Syracusd ticket, have in years gone by been con-sidered highly important. In this campaign the out-of-towner's haven't taken interest enough to be on hand. At all previous meetings of the committee the two New York city members, Cornelius Van Cott and Henry Grasse, put in an appearance. They were absent yesterday. Dr. Depew and Warner Miller have been absent all the way through. Mr. Denew because he has been very busy, and Mr. Miller because he is still sick at his home in Herkimer.

In well-regulated assemblages indoors, gentlememremove their hats, and, of course, this was done yesterday morning when the committeemen assembled in Coroner Hackett's private room. But it was noticed that all clutched their hats tightly to their breasts There was plenty of room on the desks and floor for the headgear, and the strange anpearance of the unlucky thirteen holding on to their hats was commented upon. Surely the gentlemen could trust each other not to mix up their headgear. No explanation of this odd conduct could be obtained until late in the evening, when a Republican said:

"No one can blame my colleagues for holding on to their hats. There has been so much talk going on through these useful articles

'No one can blame my colleagues for holding on to their hats. There has been so much talk going on through these useful articles that they have become more or less an active feature of the campaign, and the real reason why my associates on the committee did not let go of their hats was an inordinate fear that the hats might walk off.'

Everybody will want to know what occurred at this round-up of the Executive Committee. In the first place, Coroner Hackett produced with glee a despatch signed Nelson Nellis, Jr., of Lyons, Wayne county, saying that Charles P. Williams, the Demo ratic candidate for Assembly in the county, had announced that he would vote against Judge Maynard. This news leaked and was speedly heard at the Hoffman House, where E. B. Anderson, the Democratic Chairman of the county, pronounced it false. Mr. Anderson also paid his respects to Nellis, all to the effect that he would believe Mr. Nellis under oath, sometimes.

The reports of the seven out-of-town committeemen were all to the effect that the kepublicans would poil a light vote in the country. They also said that the Democrats would poil a light vote in the country. Situation would be about a standoff. Naturally, there was a talk about a standoff. Naturally, there was a talk about money, and every committeeman thought that he ought to have more cash than the other fellows. As a matter of fact, there was very little cash for anybody. Furthermore, it was demonstrated that this was the cheapest campaign the Republicans has been "Howkind-it-was-of-bodson & Fogg-to-take-the-case-on-spec." In other words, the Republicans, finding it impossible to interest wealthy members of their party in that ticket nominated at Syracuse, have sat back in their chairs and permitted the anti-Marnari lawyers of the Bar Association of New York to do all the hustling and run the risk of defeating the Democratic ticket. It was certainly a cheap way, but nothing else could be done under the circumstances.

At all previous meetings of the committee Kepublicans had no men.

They did not wish to tell their associates that the substantial and old-line Republicans of the city will have nothing to do with the machine led by Jake Patterson and his lieutonants. Patterson and his friends have been in control for many years, and the Republican tonants. Patterson and his friends have been in control for many years, and the Republican vote has dwindled steadily each year. The Republicans in New York county who believe in their party will not believe in a Jake Patterson machine, and this assertion can be confirmed on every street corner from the Battery to the Bronx, and in every business office and club where Republicans are found.

Addison R. Colvin, the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, appears to have get a little nervous over the fact that Coroner Hackett and his associate campaigners have talked a good deal about Democrats defeating Judge Maynard and have not even lisped the names of the Syracuse candidates. Mr. Colvin, with a half a dozen of his henchmen from Glens Falls, came to New York yesterday, and, at headquarters made it known that Mr. Colvin is on the ticket. While Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Colvin have now appeared at headquarters, eighteen Hawkehaws haven't been able to find a trace of their associates on the ticket, and not one Republican in a hundred can tell offinend who they are.

FOG CAUSED THE WRECK.

An Accident On the Rending Railroad-One Killed and Three Wounded,

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.-A dense fog this morning was the cause of a passenger wreck on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, in which a brakeman was killed and three passengers injured. As the 8:25 express from Germantown was crossing a bridge between Nicetown and Wayne Junction in the suburbs of this city shortly before 9 o'clock, the engineer brought his train to a full stop because of the density of the log, and waited for a signal to go ahead. The rear brakeman, Harry linker, ran back to flag the Jenkintown express, but had gone only a short distance when it struck him. He was knocked down an embankment and killed. Before the train could be stopped it crashed into the Germantown train, smashing the rear car, which was a smoker. The killed and injured are:

he Brooklyn Athensum Crowded With Men Who Will Help to Re-elect Mayor Boody—Ringing Speech by John Rooney. Faithful, true-blue Republicans who are out in open revolt against Charles A. Schieren and his Mugwump allies crowded the Athenseum in Brooklyn last night. A more determined, resolute body of citizens has not met during the existing campaign, and their ringing cheers in response to the denunciation of the man who stabbed James G. Biaine in the great fight of 1884, could almost be heard at Mr.

Schleren's headquarters.
A gang of young fellows were sent to the meeting by the Republican managers to make a counter demonstration, but their attempt to do so had only the effect of intensifying the anti-Schieren spirit. The meeting was under the direction of the Kings County Protective League, which has done great work for the League, which has done great work for the Republican cause in the last three Presidential elections. Mr. Geo. D. Lannon presided. elections. Mr. Geo. D. Lannon presided.

The only speech of the evening was made by Mr. John Rooney, one of the most influential men in Irish-American circles in the United States. Mr. Rooney started off by eulogizing each candidate on the Republican State ticket and every one on the local ticket, with the ex-ception of Mr. Schieren He told how a committee of the League had tried in vain to obtain some explanation from Mr. Schieren of his treachery to Mr. Blaine, and, failing to do so, had determined to oppose him.

"They would have the public believe they are opposed to all leaders and bosses in party politics, yet they themselves are the most aspiring of leaders and the most intolerant of bosses. They are never weary of denouncing office hunting and the so-called spoils system, yet they themselves are the most persistent and insatiate of place hunters fand officeholders. And these are the men who now propose to reward Mr. Schleren for his base treachery to one of the greatest statesmen of our age, the immortal lames G. Blaine.

one of the greatest statesmen of our age, the immortal James G. Blaine.

"When Benjamin Harrison, one of the ablest and most successful Presidents who ever sat in the chair of Washington, was elected in 1888, one of his first acts was to request Mr. Blaine to accept the chief office in his Cabinet, an office which that great statesman shed a justre on that it had not known since the days of Webster. Marcy, and Seward, where he proved himself more than a match for Europe's greatest statesmen and most skilled diplomats—her Bismarcks, Budins, and Salisburys—in upholding American rights and advancing American interests. Yet this great American—this American of Americans—did not come up to Mr. Schieren's lofty Mugwump ideal. Mr. Schieren's lofty Mugwump ideal. Mr. Schieren declared in 1884, to use his own elegant expression, that he would have none of Blaine in his. We now take pains to inform Mr. Schieren and all those whom it may concern that at least 10,000 of the old Blaine guard, men who are as true to his memory as they were to him when living, will have none of Schieren in theirs on the 7th of November."

All the telling points in the address were loudly applauded. There was a wild scene of enthusiasm followed by three rousing cheers for Pavid A. Boody when Mr. Rooney said "If James G. Blaine was not good enough for Mr. Schieren then. Mr. Schieren is not good enough for us now."

At the close of Mr. Booney's address these resolutions were adopted:

"Westers, I nefer the guise of a reform movement, a candidate who does not represent the Republican party or its principles has been imposed on the Republican poters of the city of Brooklyn for the highest office in the gift of its efficens; and

"Westers, This candidate not only does not of Brooklyn for the highest office in the gift of its citizens; and "Whereas. This candidate not only does not command the confidence of the Republican voters of Brooklyn, but its obnoxious to a large portion of the best and most consistent men of that party; and "Receas, should this candidate be elected it would result in the disruption and disorganization of the Republican party of the city of Brooklyn; therefore be it "Receas, that it is the duty of every stanch Republican, in view of this condidate's rast record and the methods by which he has been sprung upon his party, to leave no legitimate means unexercised to compass the defeat of said candidate. Charles A. Schieren, at the bolls on election day, and to publicly condemn such reprehensible methods."

The assemblage cheered loudly for Mayor boody as it dispersed.

SCHIEREN'S HOPE WANING.

His Managers Rentiz. Their Mistake in Naming Him. The Republican leaders in Brooklyn now fully realize that the midnight nomination of Charles A. Schieren at the Criterion Theatre, in obedience to the demands of the Mugwumps and political kickers in general, was a fatal blunder. If the work of the Convention was to be done over again, the name of Mr. Schleren would not even be mentioned. The obtrusion of the Mugwump brigade from its little white tents into the Republican camp and its pretentious attitude during the campaign has disgusted thousands of the old Stalwart band. and election day rapidly approaches with the hybrid combination suiten and demoralized. Just as soon as it was made clear that Mr. Schieren was nominated for Mayor by the socalled reorganized Republican forces as a reward for his treachery in the Blaine campaign the disintegration of the combination began and it has been going steadily forward ever since. Personally, too, Mr. Schieren has proved himself one of the weakest Mayoralty candidates ever put up by the Republicans in Brooklyn. In no way has he produced a favorable impression, and his platform appearances have generally been so disastrous that his managers have kept him in the background as far as possible, while Ed-ward M. Shepard, A. Augustus Healy, and the other leading Mugwumps have been put forward to do the talking and ride on the top of the supposed big reform wave, with inevitable defeat staring them in the face. The Republican managers have raised the cry of fraud, and vesterday Chairman lienjamin bad the effrontery to announce that there was absolute proof that over 10,000 fraudulent names had been registered. A year ago, when the registration was 3,000 in excess of this year, no such charge was made against the regular Democrate yets sheard, healy & Co., the Mugwump firm being then active in swelling the Pemocratic vote to the highest proportions. The poll lists show conclusively that the Democratic leaders have been more active and energetic in the important matter of registration than their opponents, and what makes the latter especially despondent is the consciousness that the Democratic hosts will go to the polls next Tuesday in like overwholming numbers. the top of the supposed big reform wave, with sciousness that the Democratic hosts will go to the polls next Tuesday in like overwhelming numbers.

Ex-Supervisor Charles H. Swan, who has been an active Republican worker for more than twenty years, yesterday came out for Mr. Boody, and James Gunn, the Treasurer of the Fifth ward branch of the so-called Brooklyn Democratic Club, and most of the members of that Mugwump organization have resigned and returned to the regular fold. Mr. Gunn some months ago furnished at his own expense a little hall for the Mugwumps in Front street. Yesterday he dismantled it, and the Fifth ward kickers are now out in the cold. As election day draws near the confidence at Democratic headquarters is steadily increasing. All the old, experienced managers regard Mr. Boody's reclection as assured, and, while opinions differ as to his probable plurality over Mr. Schieren, the most conservative political prophet at the Thomas Jefferson does not put it at less than 3,500 while all the veteran figurers are confident that it will exceed 5,000 and may reach 8,000. Mr. Schieren's statisticians all elect him by pluralities ranging from 2,000 all the way to 10,000, and some of his Mugwump friends cheer him with the prediction that the "grand uprising of the people" will sweep him into the Mayor's chair with 15,000 votes to spare. The cold, calculating betting men have also been doing some figuring, with the result that in their estimation Mr. Boody is a safe favorite at edds of 100 to 70.

There will be no halting in the forward march of the Democratic legions. Last night no less than twenty railies were held in various parts of the city, and to-night and to-morrow night the campaign will be wound up with parades of the faithful and jubilant Democracy.

MORE BOODY REPUBLICANS.

Colored Men Have an Enthustastic Mass Meeting in His Support. A mass meeting of colored citizens of Brooklyn, who are opposed to the Republican-Mugwup combination and in favor of David A. Boody, was held last night at Everett Hall. More than 500 persons were present, and among them were some of the best known and most induential representatives of the race in Brooklyn. They included Alfred Lyons, C. H.

Brooklyn. They included Alfred Lyons, C. H.
J. Taylor, the Minister to Bolivar; M. Q. Cants Stowart, D. Macon Webster, Charles H. Lansing, Jr., Dr. J. Francis Smith, T. B. McKeel, Francis H. Gilhert, and Fred R. Moore, Mr.
Lyons, the Chairman, said:

Although I am a Republican, I heartly support Mayor David A. Boody for reclection, While political lines are tightly drawn in the South, up here, and especially in this fair city of ours, there can be no just complaint against the treatment we of the colored race receive as a part of the population. We live under just and impartial laws. We have courts where all men fare alike, and on the streets as well as in our homes we feel safe in our rights and liberties.

where all men fare allke, and on the streets as well as in our homes we feel safe in our rights and liberties.

"I sympathize with Mayor Boody, because I believe him to be a good man, badly abused. He was born in New England, and breathed the same air of freedom with Sumner and Phillips and Garrison. He is a Christian man, a regular member of one of our city churches, and his administration of our city has been good. Taxes are lower new than they have been in several years, and public improvements are adding to the glory and value of our city as a place for the people's homes.

"Because he has been a faithful public servant, and because people like fair play. I believe that our next Mayor will be Mayor David A. Boody."

At the close of Mr. Lyens's remarks three rousing cheers were given for Mr. Boody, Addresses were also made by Mr. Taylor, Mr. Stawart, Mr. Weister, and Mr. Lansing.

Resolutions were adopted bledging earnest support to Mayor Boody.

Mr. Hoody made his appearance before the close of the proceedings, and received one of the most enthusiastic receptions he has met with in the campaign. He made a brief address.

Buffalo Mugwumps Sitered Up Over an Appointment Made by the President,

BUFFALO, Nov. 2.-The appointment of Capt, Samuel E. Nichols, for the past four years associate editor of the Evening Times, the Hill-Sheehan organ of the city, to be Pension Agent Sheehan organ of the city, to be Pension Agens for eastern New York, has caused a stir in local political circles.

In view of the lact that the home rule Demporats have been claiming that the national administration is opposed to the State Democratic organization, and the denial of this has Monday night by Mr. Sheehan in his spech at Music Hall, the appointment appears to sustain Mr. Sheehan,

It is understood that the application of Capt. Nichols was endorsed by State Committeeman Norman L. Mack, who made a personal request that the appointment be made. Capt. Nichols has always been a consistent Cleveland man and also a supporter of the State organization. He has been active for many years in Grand Army effairs, and is especially well qualified for the office.
